Technical Commentary:

After bottoming in April, the stock rebounded, retracing its earlier drawdown. While recent strength propelled the stock to a 52-week high, it has subsequently reversed course following substantial weakness. A decisive breakout above its nearest resistance would signal the resumption of bullish momentum, opening room for an advance toward RM0.39-RM0.42. Immediate support is pegged at RM0.33.

Technical Commentary:

The counter retraced from its earlyyear peak before bottoming in April. It subsequently recovered the bulk of its losses and completing double-bottom a formation. Fresh momentum has brought the stock back to re-test the RM0.935 resistance level. A decisive breakout above this threshold would validate further bullish momentum, opening scope for an advance toward RM1.00-RM1.07. Immediate support is situated at RM0.875.
